Materials	The canvas we use for these bags are made from a plant called flax. Flax (Linum usitatissimum), also known as common flax or linseed, is a member of the genus Linum in the family Linaceae. It is a food and fiber crop cultivated in cooler regions of the world. The textiles made from flax are known in the Western countries as linen, and traditionally used for bed sheets, underclothes, and table linen. The oil is known as linseed oil. In addition to referring to the plant itself, the word "flax" may refer to the unspun fibers of the flax plant. The plant species is known only as a cultivated plant, and appears to have been domesticated just once from the wild species Linum bienne, called pale flax. The leather we use for the bag bottoms are vegtan, a soft real skin leather and the straps are Butt and Side, high quality leather used for belts that does not stretch. Leather are bought in bulk. We also use antique brass fitting for all our hooks, rings and buckles
